Africa - The Land of Hijrah and Jihad

Those who ponder over the history of the Islamic State will find that Allah the Almighty has given success to this state, and He the Almighty has accompanied it on the blessed path from its establishment in Iraq till today, where the footsteps of its horses have reached the ends of the earth, not the last of which is the land of Africa.

This divine support and the success from the Lord for the Islamic State is not due to the excellence of it or its members, but due to the fact that this state has embarked - to the fullest extent of its might - on the path chosen by Allah for His Messenger ﷺ and it has never rejoiced over the substitution of this blessed path, which is the religion of Islam - a religion other than which no other religion is accepted by Allah. Allah the Almighty said: "And whoever desires other than Islam as religion - never will it be accepted from him." Elsewhere, He the Almighty said: "Indeed, the religion in the sight of Allah is Islam." Shaykhul-Islam Ibn Taymiyyah - may Allah be have mercy on him - said regarding those holding firm to Islam: "Those who guide [people] with the Book and support the [religion] with swords." Scholars say that the origin of this category is in the Book of Allah, which is then included in this category by Shaykhul-Islam Ibn Taymiyyah. Allah the Almighty said: "We have already sent Our messengers with clear evidence and sent down with them the Scripture and the balance that the people may maintain [their affairs] in justice. And We sent down iron, wherein is great military might and benefits for the people" (Al-Hadid: 25). The commentators on this verse say that the whole religion is based on the Book, which is the source of guidance and truth, and the whole religion is based on the strength and power necessary for the protection of truth and the propagation of justice.

From day one, the Islamic State has raised the unique Qur'anic slogan, "Let us align our approach with the Book that guides and the sword that helps." In this regard, the statements of the leaders of the Islamic State, including Abu Mus'ab az-Zarqawi - may Allah accept him - are still hanging in our minds and have descended to our hearts. That slogan was not followed by a long interval, but the Islamic State quickly put its slogan into practice and paved the way for the Rashidin Khilafah - a Khilafah that was awaited by the so-called practitioners of Islam as they awaited a bird to descend from the sky having the Khilafah on its wing, or a white horse having the Khilafah on its back, all they see in a dream from which they would awaken.

The Islamic State turns the mill of war in whichever direction the guiding Book and the helping sword turn. The leaders and fighters of this state sacrificed their blood for safeguarding tawhid, and they recorded in the chapters of war patience, fortitude, and determination against the forces of kufr, who were trying to stop the hijrah and jihad.

One of the fruits of this blessed path was the African wilayat, one of which is West Africa Wilayah, wherein the mujahidin today continue their journey on two blessed paths. First, the path to the call of tawhid, guiding Muslims in their religion through Diwan ad-Da'wah wa al-Masajid, Diwan al-Hisbah, Amr bil-Ma'ruf wa Nahianil Munkar, Diwan az-Zakah, and service diwans. These diwans handle the affairs of the common Muslims in the area. The mujahidin supply their offspring with the training of faith and they reform them with the guiding Book in terms of knowledge and action.

And here is the second path of the mujahidin: Fighting and defeating the armies of kufr and rida' that are fighting on the path of taghut and supporting democracy, while the mujahidin - we consider them so - fight for the sake Allah and to support the Shari'ah with the helping sword.

In the recent years, the Muslims have seen how the African wilayat have become hotbeds of hijrah and jihad, with large numbers of muhajirin flocking to these wilayat to preserve their religion, to free themselves from the rule of tawaghit and their ignorant laws, to wage jihad for the sake of Allah and for the exaltation of the Kalima, and to call people to tawhid and worship of Allah the Almighty, and all these have frightened the kuffar and angered the munafiqin.

What we see in Africa today is exactly what we saw a few years back in Iraq and Sham. And the cubs of the Khilafah on whom the Romans and Persians dropped tons of bombs, today – by the permission of Allah - are the next generation of empowerment on the land of Africa, wherein the Muslims were dispossessed for many years by Christians and murtaddin, and they were looked down upon and enslaved, because they did not hold firm on to the guiding Book and the helping sword. There situation has now changed. All praise is due to Allah that He the Almighty has given the Muslims a state on African soil that is feared by the most powerful governments now. The powerless United States has mobilized a coalition of 75 crisis-stricken nations against it, and they will see - by the permission Allah - their share of the war in Africa, waged by the angry lions of the helping sword and the guiding Book.

It is noteworthy that the Crusaders are not only encouraging people in Africa to fight militarily against the mujahidin, because for the last few years, the coalition forces have been present in Africa, but they are also mobilizing and planning to ideologically stop the Khilafah, the Khilafah that governs by the rulings of the Qur'an, prepares the environment for da'wah and faith, in which the Muslims are well-assured in terms of their religion and honor, and educates their children in the knowledge of faith and the Islamic method - yes, not in the jahiliyya method, since their role models are Hamza, Musab, and Umayr, may Allah be pleased with them all.

Despite the recent spate of military attacks on the mujahidin in the African wilayat, we must not lose sight of the fact that there has been a great deal of progress in the field of war, da'wah, media, and administration in this blessed region. This is the first time in this area that the kuffar have been frightened and vexed.

Here, we would like to remind our brothers in the African wilayat of the words of Shaykh Abu Umar al-Muhajir - may Allah protect him: "But we mention the people of battle, the stallions of West Africa and the conquests they are recording in history that have shoved the noses of the murtaddin and the Crusaders in the dirt while they are fending them off and breaking their campaigns one after the other, by the grace of Allah alone and with success from Him, glory be to Him. We say to these heroes: Remain steady O worshipers of Allah, as you are defending your religion and honor. Do not let the worshipers of the cross and the murtaddin beat you."

Lastly, we would like to say to all the Muslims who did not make hijrah to the arenas of jihad before and have been engaged in between other matters, let us stand by our brothers on the land of Africa, because today, Africa is the land of jihad and hijrah, and this vibrant field welcomes the forces and cadres who seek victory for Islam in accordance with the guiding Book and the helping sword, "And Allah will surely support those who support Him. Indeed, Allah is Powerful and Exalted in Might" (Al-Hajj: 40).

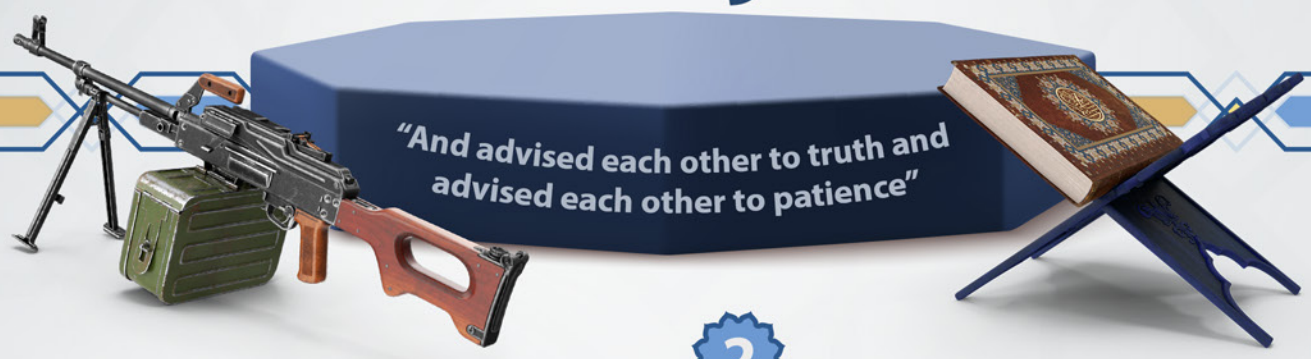
Recommendations 3
To the Mujahidin



1

Be truthful to Allah concerning any responsibility that you've been placed in charge of and do not burden yourself with something that you're not responsible for, for Allah will not ask you about it. Rather, search for truthfulness in all of your affairs, for truthfulness is a shelter and lying is an abyss. Abu Hurayra - may Allah be pleased with him - narrated that the Prophet ﷺ said: "It's enough of a sin for a man to narrate everything he hears." (Muslim)

2

Be agreeable with your brothers in everything that brings you closer to Allah and distances you from disobeying Him. Smile at them a lot, and listen to those who are older than you. If you see them working then work with them, for if you remain sitting while they're working it'll arouse bitter feelings. And if your brother is dear to you then be humble towards him. And know that being quick to blame someone is not from justice.

Be patient with your leader even if he has wronged you, for this is a religious obligation. Allah's Messenger ﷺ said, "Whoever sees from his leader something he dislikes, then let him be patient with him, because he who departs from the community a cubit, dies like those who died in the Days of jahiliyyah"" (Al-Bukhari), and he said: "Whoever removes his hand from obedience to the leader will meet Allah on the Day of Resurrection without any argument..." (Muslim)

4

Do not wish to encounter the enemy if your wish is the result of your self-delusion, your pride, your overconfidence, or anything similar. Allah's Messenger ﷺ said, "Do not wish to encounter the enemy, and ask Allah for well-being. And if you meet the enemy, have patience, and know that Jannah is beneath the shades of swords." (Al-Bukhari) Supplicate to Allah when the two rows meet for battle, for du'a' made at this point is answered.

5

Don't conceal any issue from your leader that you believe would carry shar'i benefits if you were to mention them to him, such as corruption that could spread, for informing him would be considered advice and keeping it from him would be considered deceit.

6

There are two things that are always followed by disgrace and loss: first, injustice: Allah said, "O mankind, your injustice is only against yourselves" (Yunus: 23). So there is no victory with injustice. And second, dishonesty: Allah said, "But the evil plot does not encompass except its own people" (Fatir: 43). So there is no friendship with a swindler.

7

Embolden your hearts, for doing so is a means of victory and triumph. Know that the most difficult thing for a soldier of Allah to train for is getting used to a lot of combat. Make frequent mention of the grudges you have against the enemy, for they increase your boldness.
